Groundwater is a critical resource in the Assiniboine River Watershed because over 90% of our residents rely on groundwater for their drinking water. Protection of our aquifers is paramount, and one of the best practices to ensure safe source waters throughout our watershed is the decommissioning of abandoned wells.

Over the years, many wells on properties become abandoned without being properly decommissioned.

These abandoned wells are a hazard to groundwater and a liability for property owners.

Decommissioning your abandoned wells can increase your property value!

This is an Assiniboine Watershed exclusive program, coordinated by the Assiniboine Watershed Stewardship Association.
